THANKSGIVING GUIDANCE

Safer Options for Celebrating:

Enjoy a meal with just your household family members. Cook the meal together or try something new, like meal delivery or take out.

Hold virtual celebrations with non-household family members.

Make new traditions to express your thanks to your friends, family and community members, like sending cards or gifts to loved ones or donating to food pantries.

Watch sports, events, or parades from home, and if you are Black Friday shopping, do it online.

If you gather with non-household members:

Limit your contacts & avoid any non-essential outings in the days leading up to Thanksgiving.

Wear a mask, keep your distance from others and increase the ventilation in the space you are gathering.

Remember, the shorter the duration of the gathering, the lower the risk.

Plan outdoor activities with a small group if the weather permits.
